A senior with at least 3.0 overall grade point average, a 3.0 grade point average in the area of concentration, and within 12 credit hours of graduation may petition to enroll for a maximum of eight credit hours of graduate credit. These credits may apply toward the undergraduate degree, at the department's discretion, or toward a master's degree from NMU, but not both.

Credit applied toward a master's degree at NMU will be accepted and recorded as graduate credit only after admission to the Graduate College and after the successful completion of an additional 12 credit hours of graduate study. In general, these credits will not be accepted as transfer credit by another institution. Students will be billed graduate-level tuition and fees for all courses taken for graduate credit as well as for 500-level courses taken for undergraduate credit.
