

Northern Pride

by Dr. Dwight Brady

Lofty ridges, forest floors
Crashing waves on rocky shores,
On the home of Anishinaabe tribes,
Our alma mater stands with pride.

In your halls, my voice I find,
Rigor building strength of mind.

As we leave these golden days,
Knowledge will ignite our way.
Like auroras in the sky,
We will shine with Northern pride.

We will shine with Northern pride.
