What's on students minds?

Housing

Not enough to sustainably support NMU students. A lot of students are unhappy about sharing a room with 3

Food on campus

Many students have noted that the food in the dining hall has improved. Adding another station for paninis was well received

Getting involved

Many students seem to be interested in joining student organizations. In the first couple of weeks many showed up to intro meetings. Engagement seems to be up!

On Campus Tutoring

The Tutoring Center could benefit from increased advertisement. Many students don't know about the resources available to them

Student Wages

Cost of living goes up, staff and student wages are staying down.

Students are looking for jobs off campus, leading to staffing issues in places like the dining hall

NMU Wifi

We are seeing and hearing a lot of negative comments about the wifi on campus

ASNMU Wildcat Farmers Market

Tuesday, September 17th 2024

Event details

- Goals:
 - Provide students with a chance to connect with the community
 - Provide a place for students to purchase locally grown produce on campus
 - Kick off the year with an event that brings students together to have some fun!
- Activities

What do we plan on working on moving forward?

- Grief Absence Policy
 - Drafted, waiting for it to pass
- Support for student organizations
 - Increase student belonging
 - Student organization rentals
- Voter registration
 - Working with organizations to get students registered to vote
- Monthly newsletter
 - Sent to all students, this would consist of things happening on campus, highlights of student organizations, and any approved requests that may be sent our way
- Connecting with Students!
 - We'll be hosting events to hear students' opinions and explore how ASNMU can better support them
