

Contents

SPRING / SUMMER 2006

DEPARTMENTS

- 2 Campus News
- 22 Alumni Association
- 24 Foundation
- 26 Sports
- 28 Keeping Track
- 35 Northern Perspective

FEATURES

- 4 Vital Force
American operative Jake Adams teams up with Soviet officer Yuri Pushkina to test a new missile guidance system in the Russian Far East, when something goes terribly wrong. Trevor Scott (pen name) '93 MA, weaves this excerpt of international intrigue.
- 8 Human, Considering the Polar Plateau
Globe-trotter Kathleen Heideman '94 MA shares her latest adventure to Antarctica in poetry and photography.
- 9 Cold
A widow provides shelter to an escaped prisoner lost in the deep Upper Peninsula winter woods while they discover the mystery of each other's pasts in this excerpt from NMU English Professor John Smolens' eponymous novel.
- 15 Blue Souls
Miriam Moeller '00 BA, '02 MA, '05 MFA examines art, love and finding balance in the backdrop of an art museum.
- 18 The North Wind and Passages North
An inside look at and brief history of NMU's student-run newspaper and literary magazine by former columnist Matt Schneider '04 BA, '06 MA.
- 20 Good Books
A round up of what today's students are reading for class, and a great list of summer reading titles.

ON THE COVER: Mosquito River Beach at Pictured Rocks National Lakeshore in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan—a short drive from NMU. Photograph by Steve Geer/istockphoto.