

DIRECT ADMISSION PROGRAM ADDENDUM

Direct Admission Program Agreement Between
Gogebic Community College
 And
Northern Michigan University

Service Access at Northern Michigan University

Northern Michigan University (NMU) and Gogebic Community College (GCC) have entered into a Direct Admission Program Agreement dated September 22, 2024 (the Program) to facilitate the admission of students participating in the program into NMU. The Program also provides that Northern Michigan University will provide certain services and benefits to students from GCC who enroll in the program in the same manner provided to students at NMU who are regularly enrolled. While NMU strives to provide students in the Program the same services and benefits offered to regularly enrolled students, the availability of certain services and benefits are limited by the terms and conditions of those services and benefits to regularly enrolled students at NMU. NMU will, to the greatest extent allowed by the terms and conditions of student services and benefits, provide those to GCC students participating in the Program as well; however, to the extent the terms and conditions of such services and benefits preclude inclusion of participants in the Program such services and benefits will not be available or offered to students participating in the Program. Therefore, not all student services and benefits will be available to Direct Admission Program participants in the same manner provided to students actively enrolled in courses at NMU. Concerning NMU Lydia M Olson Library privileges: specifically, remote and in-person reference and research support services available to NMU students; access to library research databases while on the NMU campus; and the opportunity to borrow materials from the Library’s circulating collections, these services will be available to GCC Program students. NMU will make good-faith efforts to keep GCC students and program staff aware of available services during their time in the program.

Other than as provided for in this First Addendum, the Direct Admission Program Agreement shall remain in full force with full effect.
